

Aurora Honors Dead With Public Services

Aurora—With impressive ceremonies, Aurora honored the memory of its fallen of two wars on Tuesday. Sponsored by Aurora branch 385, Canadian Legion, a service was held at the cenotaph despite a steady down-pour with close to 100 Legionnaires in attendance. Rev. R. K. Perdue was in charge of the service, and wreaths were placed by the Province of Ontario (Mrs. S. McKenzie and Mrs. A. Stephenson); Town of Aurora (Mrs. W. C. King); Township of King (Clarence Doolittle); Township of Whitechurch (William Davidson); Aurora branch 385 (Mrs. V. Wade); Mrs. W. Mugford, Miss Mae Heath, John Bradbury, Jr., Aurora-Red Cross (Mrs. Joseph McGhee, Sr.); Aurora Cycling club (John Offord).

"We must see that self-pity, class individualism, the attitude of 'let George do it,' indifference to our fellow men, and appeasement to what we know to be wrong does not prevail, if our fairest manhood is not to have died in vain," Rev. Ray McCleary of Toronto Woodgreen United church told a large congregation at a municipal service in Aurora United church. "The attitude that sees set against one, one side of the track against the other, the creation of artificial barriers between people in a community is a damnable thing, unworthy of all of us. We are only worthy of the blood that has been shed if we get away from narrow parochial ideas, and ways and pledge our lives to taking an active, creative part in the life of our community."

Rev. R. K. Perdue was chairman, and taking part in the service were: Rev. A. R. Park, Capt. W. Stevens, Rev. R. F. Hicks, and the Aurora high school glee club under Illyd Harris. The buglers from Aurora high school cadet corps blew Reveille and Last Post at both the cenotaph and the service.

Through With Municipal Offices-Mayor Ross Linton

Aurora—"I will definitely not be a candidate for the mayoralty or any municipal office for 1948," Mayor Ross Linton announced this week. "I have served nine years in council, four as mayor. It has been a pleasure to serve the citizens of Aurora and I have no regrets. I have had fine support from both the public and council. I feel now that it is time for someone else to take over the reins of office."

While little has been said by other members of council it is thought likely that because of poor health, Reeve C. E. Sparks may retire, in which case Deputy-Reeve Asa Cook would seek the reeveship.

At least two members of council and one school board member are mooted as potential candidates for the mayor's office, according to Main St. political gossip. All members of the present council are expected to stand for re-election again.

Coming up for re-election to school board for a two-year term are trustees Dr. C. J. Joseph, Herbert Stocks and Mrs. Robert Hodgkinson.

Last Rites Held For John Bryan

Aurora—Funeral services were held from his residence on Friday for John Bryan, Wells St., a resident here for the past 36 years. Born of pioneer stock in King Twp., he farmed near Schomberg before coming to Aurora. He was in his 82nd year and had been retired for a quarter of a century. He had been in ill health for the past year. He was a member of Trinity church of England and the funeral service was conducted by Rev. R. K. Perdue and Rev. J. V. Abbott, Schomberg.

He is survived by his widow, the former Clara Davis, a son, Leland, Aurora, a daughter, Mrs. Harold Binn (Helen), Newmarket, and a brother and sister, James Bryan and Mrs. W. McKinley, Schomberg. Pallbearers were: Keith and Elwood Davis, Emory, and Howard Bradley, Joseph, Donnan and LaVerne Leach. Interment was at Northview cemetery, Schomberg.

Knowles, of Aurora high school, Principal Delroy Babcock of Aurora public school and the Aurora high school glee club will take part in the service.

REMEMBER FALLEN VETERANS

Newmarket—A Remembrance Day parade and service was held in Newmarket at 2 p.m., Sunday afternoon. Veterans from Newmarket and Bradford fell in under Marshalls J. W. MacDonald and W. Johnson at the town hall. Preceded by the Newmarket Citizens' Band, and with C.W.A.C.'s, Boy Scouts, and a large color party, they marched to the Cenotaph, where a short service was conducted by Rev. Henry Cotton.

The roll of those who gave their lives in both world wars was read, and Marshall Johnson said, "They do not answer, padre." Three wreaths were then presented, one each by Hunt Taylor on behalf of the Canadian Legion, Arthur Evans on behalf of the Newmarket Veterans' Association, and Mayor Joseph Vale on behalf of Newmarket town council.

Mr. Cotton spoke briefly. "We are met here today for one purpose, and one purpose only, to honor the memory of all the men who gave their lives in two world wars for our freedom. We shall observe two minutes silence in their memory." The Last Post was sounded and the colors lowered, followed by two minutes' silence. Then Reveille was sounded, and the band played O Valiant Hearts.

From the Cenotaph, the parade continued up Main St. to St. John Chrysostom's church, where Father James S. McGivern, S.J., O.B.E., who served overseas as chaplain of an engineers and artillery division, conducted a patriotic service. The congregation sang Holy God We Praise Thy Name prior to his address. In his sermon he urged loyalty to God, to one's country, and to oneself. "Take up the torch of loyalty, and follow in your daily lives the example of those who paid the full price on distant battlefields," he said.

A hymn, Star of the Sea, prayers for the dead, a two-minute silence, and the singing of the national anthem followed the address.

The flag-draped sanctuary of the church was beautifully decorated with yellow and white mums and amber and white candles.

FLEURY PROPERTY ASSESSMENT CUT

Aurora—A reduction in assessment of 40 percent on both buildings and lands was secured on the former "Fleury property" at the Court of Revision for Aurora on Monday night by the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Toronto, the new owners of the property, since the property is now used largely for church services and it is proposed to build a church there in the near future. This was the only substantial change made in the tax roll of the new assessor, Robert Marshall.

Decision was reserved by the court for further evidence in the case of the T. Eaton Company, Mrs. E. V. Underhill, Tyler St., received a reduction of $200 to bring her assessed residence value in line with other adjacent properties.

HOLDS OPEN HOUSE

Newmarket—Members of council and other municipal bodies, and friends attended an "open house" at the former camp property where they were guests of John W. Bowser, Aurora. Mr. Bowser opened one of the army huts that have been converted into homes for the inspection of his guests.

SEEK USED CLOTHING

Newmarket—The Home and School Association appeals for contributions for used clothing which is suitable for re-sale. These clothes must be received by November 22 at the latest. Leave your contributions at Stewart Beare's store or at Budd's Studio this week.

Pedestrians Oblivious As 11 A.M. Strikes

Newmarket—A few minutes before 11 a.m. on Armistice Day I walked down the Main St. of Newmarket and took up a position near the Timothy St. corner. It was drizzling and the air was not warm. An occasional store was using the Armistice Day theme or at least a Union Jack as a part of its window display, but with the exception of the banks I only saw one store which was not open for business.

A short distance up the street three people were in a group under an awning talking. The window displays of two stores were being rearranged. Pedestrians hurried along the street, apparently to reach their destinations and to get out of the rain.

As 11 o'clock struck, the radio station to which the radio in one store was tuned went dead for two minutes, but activity in the store went on as usual. The arrangement of the window displays continued to absorb those who were working on them. Clerks continued about their business even in those stores in which the Armistice theme was displayed in the windows, and pedestrians continued on their way. No factory whistles blew to remind those who might hear it of the implications of the hour. At 11:06 a.m. a man dressed in working clothes approached, pulled out a pocket watch and commented, "They haven't blown the factory whistles. There was supposed to be two minutes' silence."

Mark 125th Anniversary With Special Services

Newmarket—A memorial service at the Congregational Christian church served as an opening of the 125th anniversary services this week. The service was largely attended and there was a good representation of Newmarket veterans. Two color parties, one party of world war I veterans, and the second of world war II veterans, paraded the colors. Last Post was sounded by Jack Arlitt and was broadcast over the Memorial Broadcasting System instead of the regular ringing of the 11 o'clock bell.

Rev. F. Breckon in his sermon on "Peace," stressed that those veterans whose lives had been given, had made a sacrifice worthy in so far as they laid the road of progress to a greater peace. The church was well appointed for the occasion, having in the front, a model of the Vimy Ridge Memorial, a poppy wreath placed on the memorial tablet of the church and poppies very much in evidence throughout the building.

The emphasis laid on the Tuesday night service was Christian Endeavor work which has been serving this church since 1886. Delegates were present from the other Christian churches in the province. Wednesday night was Ladies' Aids and Missionary Societies night. Missionary work has been outstanding in the church and the Missionary Society reports that during the past few years interest in missions has increased. Receipts in 1939 were $289; in 1946, $2,140. In September, 1943, Rev. D. C. Percy, of the Sudan Interior Mission, was chosen the church representative in Africa and the church takes care of his personal support. Early in 1945, Rev. and Mrs. Percy and their little daughter, Dorothy, were stationed in Biliri and were instrumental in establishing a Bible training school for native men and women, and through their untiring efforts, have graduated quite a number of natives into full-time ministry as missionaries to their own people.

The Sunday-school is supported. (Page 7, Col. 7)

PRESIDES AT Y.P.

Newmarket—Gordon Cockburn presided at a meeting of the Presbyterian Young People's Society in the Sunday-school rooms on Tuesday evening. Guest speaker, Donald Galbraith, spoke on the text: Is Not This The Carpenter—Mark 6:3. The next meeting will be held on Nov. 18.

TEA AND BAKE SALE

Newmarket—The Home and School Association is holding a tea and bake sale on Wednesday, Nov. 26, at the home of Mrs. N. L. Mathews, 1 Elm St., from 3 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. There will be a display of articles which have been made in the handicraft classes.

Newmarket—On Tuesday morning Arthur Pegg brought a mushroom into the office of The Era and Express. He said he had picked it in his garden earlier in the morning.

Survey Newmarket For Housing Needs

Newmarket—Questionnaires are being distributed in Newmarket to determine the demand for low-cost rental housing following the announcement on October 10 of the federal government's new housing policies by Reconstruction Minister C. D. Howe.

The Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, which is a Crown corporation, has been in touch with members of the town council here, and has offered to locate one of the new developments in Newmarket, provided the demand is sufficiently great.

Mayor Joseph Vale requests that the questionnaires be filled in and returned to Clerk Wesley Brooks' office before or as soon after November 17 as possible in order that housing needs may be determined.

GOOD TO FIGHT FOR BELIEF LIONS TOLD

Newmarket—Rev. Capt. George M. Dix, chairman of the Ontario parole board, who was guest speaker at the Armistice dinner of the Newmarket Lions club 12 years ago, returned on Monday night and was again guest speaker at the Armistice dinner.

"Twelve years ago the country and the world were in the midst of a depression. The League of Nations had more or less failed. Germany had had her great purge. Japan had already been at war with China for a couple of years. Civilization had been blown to pieces, and we were failing in our attempts at international integration," Capt. Dix said.

Not Atmosphere of Victory
"The atmosphere here is not an atmosphere of victory, or of success but rather a feeling that it is a great thing to be able to go on trying and striving for the things we feel are worth while. We who are here stop long enough in the midst of this atmosphere of unsolved problems, and we stand and pause in memory and in gratitude for those who stood once with us. Over 100,000 Canadians were killed in two world wars. Tens of thousands of wives and children are today walking in pride and in sorrow because of the loss of those who gave their lives," Capt. Dix said.

The speaker was introduced by Grant Dillane and was thanked by Alex Eves. Previously, two minutes' silence had been observed while Ken Ponting played a hymn on the piano. Members of the executive of both the Newmarket branch 426, Canadian Legion, and the Newmarket Veterans' Association, and Rev. Henry Cotton, padre of both organizations, were guests of the club. President Robert Pritchard gave Douglas May, president of the Newmarket Veterans' Association, a cheque for $50 toward the memorial which the association proposes to erect at the cemetery.

Three new members, Russell Broadbent, Arthur Carson, and Grant Sine, were inducted into the club.

Scarlet Fever Milder Estimate 35 Cases

Newmarket—Dr. L. W. Dales, medical officer of health for Newmarket, said yesterday that the cases of scarlet fever here were getting milder, but that "owing to the many varieties of scarlet fever, both with and without rash, it would assist health authorities materially if parents would keep all children with sore throats at home for four or five days, or until completely well."

Dr. Dales said an official of the department of health came to Newmarket yesterday afternoon at his request to review the situation and to clear up some confusion over quarantine. Dr. Dales said that at the clinics which have been held he had been "stretching a point and treating as many children as time and facilities would permit" but that the clinic was not obliged to treat those who could not be treated by private doctors.

Dr. Dales estimated the number of known cases of scarlet fever in Newmarket at 35. He said that about 100 children had been given first needles with young, getting preference. Successful needles will be given one week apart for five weeks.

$30,148 Value Set On Memorial Site

Newmarket—In a written decision handed down over the weekend, Judge Thomas H. Barton placed a total value of $30,148 on the land expropriated by the Newmarket town council as a site for a memorial auditorium. He also ordered the town to pay the various claimants a total of $240 costs.

Value of the Streeter property was set at $4,808, the value set by Charles Boyd on behalf of the town. Harry C. Tovell had estimated the value of both the Streeter property on Park Ave. at $65 a foot frontage on behalf of the owners because of the potential value of the land as business sites. In the case of the Streeter property, Mr. Boyd said the cost of the removal of the building and filling in the property to bring it to street level lowered its value.

In his decision Judge Barton said "it would cost more than the house is worth to put it in a liveable condition. The lot is below street level at the front and slopes down toward the rear. While the property is situated close to Main St. and to the post office, there is no sign of any commercial development on Park Ave., and I doubt very much if there will be any until the block of vacant land just west of the property is developed."

"In view of the various sales in the neighborhood at prices considerably less than those quoted by Mr. Boyd, I think he is being very fair and generous to the claimants and I have no hesitation in accepting his valuation."

Value on the Geer and Byers properties totalled $10,000, $135 more than the value set by Mr. Boyd. Discussion at the time of the hearing revolved around the question of whether the distance of the Park Ave. property from the central business section of Newmarket lowered its value.

Judge Barton said that Mr. Tovell's quotations on the property and buildings had been approximately 15 percent more than those of Mr. Boyd and that Mr. Tovell had reasoned that values have increased approximately 15 percent during the last six months. "The price to be paid is the value at the date of the by-law, which was March 5, 1917," Judge Barton said. "Valuations by Mr. Tovell and Mr. Boyd for the property at that date are therefore approximately the same, $19,000."

Judge Barton valued the Watson estate at $1,000. Mr. Boyd had valued the property at "$1,000 if there is a right-of-way, $300 if there is not," while Mr.

MEMORIAL FUND

Newmarket—The Veterans' Association fund for the memorial of the veterans' plot in Newmarket cemetery has reached a total of $1,217.40 with donations of Lions club, $50; Citizens' Band $20.83; Ferrin's, $10.

Tovell had set values of $1,200 and $900 respectively.

"There are no buildings on the rear portion of the land in question but Mrs. Watson contends that she has a right-of-way over lands to the west and south for ingress and egress to and from the premises on the front portion for the use of the occupants of these premises and that by the expropriation this right-of-way will be extinguished."

"On the meagre evidence, I cannot find that a legal right-of-way exists, but there is no doubt that Mrs. Watson's tenants have been using the right-of-way and she is justified in assuming that the present user of the property would continue for some time and she has certainly suffered some damage in this respect."

Judge Barton ruled.

He set the value of the land expropriated from Florence L. Rumsey and Beatrice J. Rumsey at $1,840. Mr. Boyd had valued the two properties at $1,600 and Frank Doyle, for the Rumseys, had valued it at $1,900. Discussion centred about how much frontage should be allowed on one property, since its shape is irregular. Judge Barton agreed with Mr. Doyle that the frontage was sufficient for the erection of buildings. He accepted Mr. Doyle's valuation with the exception of six percent which Mr. Doyle said he had added because of increased values in the past six months. The owners were allowed $100 because of extra expense which they would incur because of the loss of a cesspool.

The estate of Margaret Broughton was allowed $3,000 and Walter Broughton, who held a life interest, was allowed $500. The total $3,500, was the valuation set by Mr. Boyd and agreed to by the executors of the estate.

Hunters Annual Trek Like 'Muskox' Expedition

By JACK STRUTHERS

The "hunters' special" pulled out of Mount Albert Saturday night around midnight with well over 100 men from the district. They were bound for camps spread through the country from Parry Sound to Sudbury and most of them will be spending two weeks in the country where, they hope, the deer is plentiful.

The station and platform were filled with men by 10 p.m. as they expected to be leaving about 10:30, but the "hunters' special" is an indefinite sort of thing and as it must pick up hunters all the way along the line, it doesn't take long for it to fall behind schedule. Some of the gang who were going to the Sudbury district did not expect to reach their destination until late afternoon of the next day. "Riding on the 'hunters' special' is a rare experience that should not be missed," said one of the boys.

There is much shunting to be done around freight sheds because hunters take a lot of supplies and equipment for a two weeks' stay. In one truck load alone at the Mount Albert station that some of the boys were loading on to the train, there was a good sized row boat, many cases of provisions and crates with faithful dogs patiently waiting for the event of year.

One group that left Saturday night was the Falcon club which was heading for camp just south of Sudbury. There were nine of them: Bert Morrison, Harry Richardson, both of Newmarket, Dr. G. W. E. Macpherson (president), Mount Albert, Eldon Goodwin, George MacMillan, Ernie Jones, Tom Kilner, Earl Roberts and Percy Richmond. The boys said that Les Boynton, a member of the club but unable to make the trip, would be with them in spirit. Harry Richardson said that it was his 16th year on the hunt and Les Boynton said it would

Keep Kids Off Streets Parents Warned

Newmarket—Parents were warned this week by Chief Constable Ronald Watt to keep their children, especially their daughters, off the streets at night. In a statement this week Chief Watt said: "Children and especially young girls should be careful about advances by strangers, particularly men. They should not accept money or gifts from an unknown adult. They should go straight home from school and not loiter on the streets or street corners after dark."

Plan Students' Council For Aurora High

Aurora—A students' council to handle their own problems and the matter of athletic awards, and to work in liaison with the staff is being formed at Aurora high school. A head boy and a head girl will be elected for a one-year term from the students of fifth form, and they will be backed by a representative students' council. A constitution has been drawn after considering those of many larger schools and the new group will get underway this month. A student's court may be formed from the group.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Driscoll, gave an interesting and instructive talk on the work of York County Children's Aid. Lila Andrews and Mrs. Erwin Winch gave appropriate readings while several of the little girls from Willow Beach entertained with singing.

It was decided to have a Family Night in Belhaven Community Hall on December 5. A short program, together with cards and other games, will provide entertainment. Lunch will be served and a Christmas bazaar held. Everyone welcome.

KING TOWNSHIP

The regular meeting of the King township council was held at the Temperance hall, Kettleby, on Monday, Nov. 3. Reeve L. B. Goodfellow was in the chair. All members were present. The minutes of the former meetings were read and adopted.

The council went into committee of the whole on accounts and bills with N. D. MacMurchy in the chair, and the following accounts were approved:

Treasurer, Temperance hall, Kettleby, rent council meeting, $5; Hydro Electric Power Commission, street lights P.V.N., $142.30; North York Registry Office, list of sales, $5.16; Liberal Printing, advertising T.B., $5.25; Hollingshead Bros., pheasant feed, $10.45; H. G. Rose, registrations, $2.50;

Shell Oil Co., kerosene, $6.15; Arthur Wellesley, school attendance services, $26.55; Wm. Davis, police services and mileage, $29.90; J. A. Farquhar, police services and mileage, $35.51; Edgar Burnfield, sidewalks, P. V. Nobleton, $7.50; John MacKenzie, tanks, P. V. Nobleton, $34.50;

A. A. Kanke, gravel and fill, P. V. Nobleton, $107.50; E. S. Reddick, postage, $20.44; road voucher No. 11, $12,912.68; relief voucher, $54.52.

A motion was passed proclaiming Tuesday, Nov. 11, Armistice Day, as a public holiday in the municipality. Permission was granted to the Canadian Legion No. 438, King, to hold a tag day on November 8.

The treasurer was authorized to issue a cheque to the treasurer of the county of York for hospitalization for the month of September. It amounted to $95.75.

It was moved by N. D. MacMurchy that the council accept the offer of A. C. Duff, contractor, Bolton, for installing the multiple culvert opposite lot 29, concession B, as follows: 24 cubic yards excavation at $4.50, $108; 13 cubic yards of concrete at $16, $208; placing multiple in position and assembling, $100; total, $416; sand and gravel to be supplied by contractor, cement if necessary supplied at cost price; and that this offer be accepted on approval of the department of highways. The motion was carried.

The meeting then adjourned to meet at the Masonic hall, King City, on Monday, Dec. 15, at 11 a.m., or at the call of the chair.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Can shyness be overcome?

Indeed it can! And every bit of progress one makes in this direction is of great benefit. For an effective personality is an asset in almost every occupation, particularly in smaller communities where commercial and social contacts so often overlap.

According to Dr. Henry C. Link, eminent psychologist, personality is best developed by "learning to do an increasing number of things for and with people".

For example, you may have no interest in playing bridge. But if you do, it will help you to develop poise because you have acquired a new skill and are brought into contact with other people. And this contact is made easier for you because you will be engaged in doing something with them.

Taking part in other games, sports, club life, town council meetings or activities with other people will help cure your shyness. And this, in turn, will help you achieve greater success in your work.

The life insurance companies in Canada play an important part in the economic life of the nation. Every year over 250 million life insurance dollars are invested in farms and industries, apartment and office buildings, and other projects which promote progress and create jobs.

"Darling," said George, as gently and as diplomatically as he could, "doesn't it seem to you there might be a little something just a teeny-weeny little something—lacking in this pudding?" "Yes, dear, I suppose there is," came the unexpected reply. "But it's your own fault. I told you we should have a better radio."

"What's the radio got to do with it?" demanded George. "Everything," wailed the little woman. "That's as far as I got with the recipe before the dilapidated old thing broke down!"

MAGISTRATE'S COURT FOUR MONTHS TERM IN FRAUD CHARGES

Newmarket—Kenneth Brillinger, recently of Wilcox Lake, was sentenced to four months in the Ontario reformatory in magistrate's court on Friday. On October 31, he had been convicted of four charges of fraud to which he had pleaded guilty. Magistrate Hollinrake remanded sentence until November 7. He pleaded not guilty on a fifth charge which was later dismissed.

On the fifth charge, it was said that he had unlawfully obtained $48 from Charles Williams, 69 Burndale Ave., Lansing, who is a service station operator there. Williams testified that he had arranged to buy a 1931 Durant coupe from Brillinger. Brillinger had said that he would hold the car on payment of $8 and on the payment of $35, Williams could take possession of the car, he said. Williams presented a receipt that Brillinger had given him for the $8 and said that he had paid Brillinger $20 on July 5 but that the accused did not give him a receipt for it. He said he had also paid him another $20 on July 12. After that he did not see the accused and came to Newmarket and asked if a warrant should be issued for Brillinger.

The accused said he was in financial difficulty and had sold the car in the meantime as he wanted to buy a truck for his business. He said that he later wrote a letter to Williams saying that he would give him back the money that had been paid to him. He said that he had received only $28 from Williams; $8 first and $20 later, but did not know the exact date he had received it. Magistrate Hollinrake said that Williams had civil rights to get his money but that there was some doubt in his mind whether the accused was acting in a criminal way. He dismissed the charge.

In Army Four Years
Speaking on his own behalf before his sentence for the other convictions, Brillinger said that he was in the army for four years and his record was good. He said he was married and had two children and also that he would like to make restitution for the money he had taken. He said he had been in financial difficulties. The magistrate told the accused that it was a low way of doing things, to establish oneself with men who are also starting in business, and that in each case, it was taking advantage of their good faith. He said that the minimum sentence he could make was four months.

Roy Hartwig and Doris Empey, alias Hartwig, were jointly charged with stealing a shot gun, about 50 records and a number of smaller articles from William Ross Chapman, with whom Roy Hartwig was employed on a farm just north of Queensville. Chapman testified that he had hired Hartwig on October 8 and the couple had been living in quarters separate from his. He said he furnished them with free hydro, milk and wood. He said that they left and the articles disappeared between Saturday night, Nov. 1, and Sunday morning. Constable Jardine said he went to North Bay after they were taken by North Bay police and got the recovered articles. The woman pleaded not guilty and the charge against her was dismissed. Roy Hartwig pleaded guilty and Magistrate Hollinrake remanded him for one week for sentence.

Mrs. Helen Stuart, who had been remanded on October 31 on charges of unlawful possession and unlawful sale of liquor, was fined $50 and costs. Police testified they had searched her residence under a warrant and found a quantity of liquor. They also had reported considerable traffic to and from the residence. Magistrate Hollinrake gave orders to make the residence a public place.

Police On Watch For 'Mickey'

Newmarket—For the past three weeks, Newmarket, county and provincial police have kept watch on the banks in Newmarket following a "tip" from Toronto police that "Mickey" MacDonald, Louzon and three others planned to rob the Bank of Toronto.

According to the Toronto police, the gang were in possession of information on the payrolls handled by the bank. It was believed that the hold-up attempt would be made on Tuesday. The payrolls are taken from the bank to the Davis Leather Co. Ltd. and Office Specialty on Wednesday. At the request of the police, no report of the police guard appeared in previous issues pending expected developments. However, as the third Tuesday passed without incident, police voiced the opinion that either the gunmen had been warned off or that it was a false alarm. A police watch is still being maintained, however.

Police have reason to believe that the layout of the banks had been thoroughly scouted by a stranger who was in town for three weeks prior to the alarm. Three weeks prior to the alarm.

Many Colorful Costumes At Aurora Party

Aurora — Hallowe'en night, once again proved to be a big night for Aurora school children. The Aurora public school held its annual parade and frolic, and parents and spectators were as excited as the youthful participants. A wide variety of costumes were on parade and the judges had a difficult time. Aurora Boys' Band headed the parade through the streets and the Aurora Fire Brigade provided police protection. Nary an unfortunate incident marred the party. The winners were:

Room 1 and 2: Grade 8, girls, Ann McRae, trapper; Mary Adams, Japanese girl; Betty Holman and Arlene Morrison, fat lady; Ruth Hayes, archer; Joan Kirk, Superman; Ruth Steadman, Man in the Moon; Margaret Higgins, cigaret girl;

BORN IN NEWMARKET HEADS 'EXPORTERS'

Editor's Note — Harold Lush was born in Newmarket, and lived on Queen St. for several years. His father, a sewing machine and piano agent, died when Harold was very young, and Mrs. Lush taught music to support the large family, every member of which was musically minded. He attended Newmarket schools and later worked at Cane's Woodworking factory. He is now 58. The following article about Mr. Lush appeared in the Financial Post last week and is reprinted in its entirety.

(Financial Post)
Canadian Exporters Association's 600 manufacturing and 125 agency companies selling abroad, last week in Montreal brought H. V. Lush out of the membership ranks to be their fifth president. Harold Victor Lush, 58, trailblazer in labor relations, one of Canada's most export minded and widely travelled manufacturers, is president of Metal Stampings Ltd., Toronto.

In Europe's lack of dollars and credits, the exporters of Canada's copper, nickel and aluminum, timber, wheat and manufactured goods face potentially grave depression-making factors. But many, like Lush, think of the world dollar dilemma as a short-term problem; hope for a scheme of Marshall plan aid that will give Europe the means to buy Canadian as well as U.S. goods; see new promise for the longer term in rising Latin American markets.

Basic belief of the new CEA president is that international citizenship will be found most speedily if not only in paths of international trade. "Any bar to free flow of goods between nations is also a barrier to international understanding," he remarked earnestly to The Financial Post this week. "Canada will take her rightful place as a ranking power when she views problems of external relations from a world point of view. We must seek wider association through trade and travel abroad. In this way, and perhaps only so, we can gain and impart understanding, and win lasting amity within our immediate circle at least."

Born in Newmarket, near Toronto, of a family of nine, Harold Lush after his father's death left school early to go to work, started as errand boy for a Toronto druggist at 15. At 19, he gravitated to driving a food store delivery wagon and after five years of saving bought out the boss in 1914 and ran the business personally until 1918 when he was 29 and three years married. Then, entrusting his store to a manager, he did a two-year stint between Halifax and the Lakehead selling syndicated advertising service for a New York firm.

Selling the store in 1920, he bought into Metal Stampings, becoming by stages office, sales and general manager and, in 1935 a majority owner and president. It was in 1937 that the firm launched its export business, in 1940 that it built a more modern suburban plant which successive enlargements since have made a district showplace. Metal Stampings today exports about half its production, which it estimates as about half of all aluminum cookware sold abroad by Canada.

Lush this year, yielding to pressure of production and expansion problems, has waived for the moment his own rule for successful selling abroad; recently sent an emissary to South Africa instead of going himself. Before, it had been a job for the boss—Britain in 1937 and again in 1939; 22 Latin American countries in 1945.

Outside of business, he finds time for a family of six, two girls and four boys, the youngest 22.

Up To The People

There is no more fitting commentary on Canada's archaic laws with reference to sex crimes than the fact that following the murder of a child in Toronto, the police procedure included the questioning of some of the 1,000 odd convicted offenders who had served their sentences and were free. Since sex offences are the habitual actions of certain types of diseased mentalities, a check of previous offenders was routine. But only horror can be felt towards the laws that permit such men to be treated as car thieves and released after they have served their terms.

It is nonsense to argue the severity of penalties to be imposed upon sex offenders. The threat of punishment, the deterrent in other crimes, has no meaning for the sex pervert. Once freed, they must be expected to repeat their crimes. It is not the fault of the police, or the judges that these men are freed to repeat their brutalities. It is the fault of the public, ignorant of the unchained viciousness that walks in their midst and caring too little when it is brought to their attention to end it.

Until the public is prepared to insist that the laws be changed so that these criminals can be segregated until there is no danger from them, until the public is prepared to pay the cost of such treatment, nothing can be done. How many more children must die before there is evidence of a willingness to act?

'As Ye Sow ...'

A good many members of the electorate subscribe to the curious belief that as long as some of them mark their ballot (average around 40 percent), they have discharged their duties as citizens. Having elected the required number of candidates, they need do nothing further except to keep up a running criticism against their choice for the next 12 months. It's not a belief conducive to good government.

No government, national or municipal, is any better than those who elect it. An active, conscientious electorate is a sure guarantee of an active, conscientious council. The apathetic, nagging electorate is rewarded in kind. As long as the citizens of Newmarket show the same indifference to municipal affairs, so evident on nomination night, Newmarket will never have the advantages it should. No able citizen is going to run for office where his worth is measured by the amount of punishment he can absorb. There is no encouragement for those in office when their accomplishments are ignored and their faults continually harped upon.

Friday night, Nov. 28, is nomination night. Will there be the usual poor attendance or will there for once be some evidence of a civic conscience?

Stop Waiting For George

The Christmas parade has proven value to the merchants of Newmarket as an expression of goodwill and an advertisement for the town. Most merchants acknowledge its importance but when approached, plead the pressure of business to avoid becoming involved in it. It is not an attitude to be praised. Letting George do it is poor business practice for themselves and for the community.

In another two weeks it will be too late for a Christmas parade. A good parade requires time for preparation. Planned now, the parade needn't be a strenuous effort and the cost, shared by all, would be small. There is plenty of pro-parade sentiment on Main St. It remains only to throw off this "let George do it" attitude to show what a united effort can accomplish.

Sometimes it appears that the merchants of Newmarket forget that because of their prominence, much is expected of them by their customers. The Christmas parade is a very real instance. If the merchants can't live up to the expectations of their customers, they will go elsewhere. It's a sound business axiom—one that should be remembered.

Assessments Must Be Revised

Revision of assessments is a popular phrase in the lexicon of some Newmarket public men, but like the weather, nothing has ever been done about it—nothing, that is, until this year when a committee was formed with councillor H. J. Luck as chairman, to look into the matter. A proper investigation is a six-month job. Because of its importance and the length of time that has elapsed since the committee was formed, at least an interim report should be given.

In the past, a need for more revenue was met by the town council by raising the mill rate, but that is not a practice that can be continued indefinitely. It is time attention was given to the underlying cause of Newmarket's lack of revenue. The auditor's report for Newmarket suggests the answer quite clearly. Despite its growth from 1933 to 1946, the total assessment in Newmarket, according to the report, rose only $70,000 in round figures. It is hardly in keeping with the development of the town.

A recent news item highlights the importance of an immediate revision of assessment. The medical officer of health, Dr. L. W. Dales, repeated in his report to the council the complaints of his predecessor of the unsanitary condition of the basements of the public schools. The school board has not the funds to make the necessary improvements. Budgeting last year for minimum requirements, the board was asked to reduce still further their budget to help keep the tax rate down. It will always be so until Newmarket's assessments are brought up to date.

Two-Minute Silence

The Era and Express carries on its front page this week an eye-witness account of how the two-minute silence was observed on Main St., Newmarket. It is not an account in which Newmarket people can feel any pride. Nowhere within the range of our reporter was there any indication that the two-minute silence was being observed. There was no halt in traffic, no cessation of activity. The hour came and went unnoticed. Is this how our dead are to be remembered?

Is not the memory of the casualty lists, the headlines of battles won and the cost in human life enough to remind us of the debt that is owing? Are factory whistles necessary to signal the hour? What meaning can Armistice Day hold for us if others must be relied upon for a reminder of its meaning? Surely the sacrifice has not so soon lost its meaning!

In the hearts of countless men and women, the kin of those who fell that hour tolls with heavy beat. How can that indifference be excused to them—and to the dead?

Gleanings From Weekly Press

Don't be guilty of making it easy for the child to play the teacher off against the parent, advises the Perth, Ont., Courier in an editorial, saying: "Just as sure as parents criticize the teacher and the school system, just so sure will the pupil find a way out from under his tasks. Surely we can expect parents to let the seeds grow and come up without pulling them out."

The Montreal board of trade makes a plea for a minister and a department of immigration whose sole responsibility would be attraction of suitable people to this country, arguing that admission of these people, under a selective plan, would mean greater production for home and export trade, increased home consumption, a greater distribution of purchasing and spending power, employment, distribution of tax load, reduction in per capita cost of government, other services and public utilities; would add new skills, industrial talent to the national economy. It's very simple, this formula.

A political side-glance from The Letter-Review: "In broad terms, what this country needs is a political issue. Were either of the old parties to announce that it was in favor of a return to genuine freedom of enterprise, without hedging on every detailed case, it would probably win a majority of seats outside Quebec. Unless either of the older parties does this, the next dominion election seems likely to end in a stalemate."

The Brooks, Alta., Bulletin first points to the decimation of village and town slaughter houses, to centralizing of the meat packing industry in the cities by a few great firms, and then ... "Labor leaders took advantage of the situation and organized on a nation wide scale. Now the whole industry can be closed down, tight as a drum, by the decision of a few men. The people of this country can be deprived of food, the British food ration can be lowered to the danger point and farmers suffer untold losses through having to hold finished stock on the farms." The Bulletin wonders if the voters of this country can't do something about it.

The scene from Shingwauk Farm presents a suggestion. "Canada can forestall a situation similar to that in Britain by voluntarily taking timely action to restore the 48-hour week before the disparity in farm and urban earnings and prices work great harm to the exchange of food and manufactured products."

A swell hobby: Donald Wilby, 70-year-old Heathcote, Alta., farmer, has collected one of the largest and most valued bird-egg collections in Canada, which includes 1,300 varieties and about 3,000 eggs.

Help! Cries the Vernon, B.C., News in commenting on the growing influx of babies at the Jubilee hospitals. Adds: "If the stork visits keep on at the same pace, bureau drawers may be pressed into service." One morning there were 29 babies being cared for at the institution and Vernon isn't Montreal.

Canadians hits: On the night of October 4 people on ranches around High River, Alta., saw a clearly marked rainbow in the sky at 8:30 p.m., with the moon rising in the east. ... "and" says the High River Times, "an important angle is that only people who are stone sober were able to see it." ... Johnson Campbell, Innisfail, Alta., celebrated his 72nd birthday and 56th wedding anniversary on the same day. ... At Prince George, B.C., Jimmy Alexander, 55-year-old half-breed Indian, was charged with attempting murder of Max McColl; and oddly enough both their names were shown on the jury list called for the trial. ... At the Cut Knife, Sask., hospital two sets of twins were born within six days, making it four sets since April. ... At Blackie, Alta., a six-month-old White Leghorn pullet came out of hiding proudly leading a procession of 12 baby chicks, and this is vouchered for by owner Cecil Kumlun. ...

Seen Around Town

About the men and women you meet around town almost everyday.

In 1915, a 16-year-old pitcher began to do mound chores regularly for one of the teams in the town league, and it wasn't long before he was signed for the Newmarket Intermediate O.B.A. team. He pitched for 14 years, and in all that time, only one opposing batter was able to clout a circuit blow.

Basil McHale, 48 last month, was born and educated in Newmarket. He was one of the four athletic sons of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McHale, who also had a daughter, now Mrs. Herb. Hugo. In 1914, Baz quit high school and for a while worked in the shipping room of the Davis Leather Company. After a short time there, he went to work for Stan Osborne in order to learn to be a butcher. Mr. Osborne's business was sold twice within the next ten years, and each time Baz was taken on by the new owner. They were Luke Lyons and Carr's Meat Market respectively.

In 1924, Baz opened a new meat market for the late G. H. Knowles, and he managed it until 1930, when he opened his own market on Prospect St. where Gibson's store now is. In 1936 he sold out to his former employer, Luke Lyons, and went to work for Loblaw's, relieving in the meat markets all over Ontario.

In 1933, Baz found that the meat business was not agreeing with him, so he took a course in aircraft at Weston Tech and went to work for National Steel Car, later Victory Aircraft. There he fitted the cowling on the first Lancaster Bomber turned out in Canada. He was later promoted to the fitting assembly, and he worked there until 1946. Now he is back in the meat business working for Sam Brookfield.

Picked Up Himself

But to get back to Baz's baseball career. When Baz started pitching for the town team in the town league, which consisted of Davis Leather, Office Specialty, Cane's and the Town, the town team was always the weakest, and it seldom won a game. It had no organization, and usually had enough players on hand either to field two teams or else not enough to field one. The town seldom fielded the same team twice.

"I remember one time when someone had to jump on a bicycle and go up to get Tom Doyle to play second base," Baz says. "Tom was in the middle of cutting the lawn, but he left the lawnmower where it was, cut across the fields, got someone to hold his watch and chain, and took to the diamond."

According to Baz, it was on one of these occasions that the pitcher did not show up, and he was elected to do the honors. "After I had thrown the first few, everyone moved out of the grandstand, which was a good 75 feet behind home plate, and sought a safer place. Fred Thompson was doing the catching at that time, and after he got me settled down we beat the best team in the league." Baz managed the team for a number of years, and had players ranging in age from 15 to 40. "The late John Howard, who played first base at the time, always wore a glove, but he seldom used it," Baz reminisced. "He speared them all with his bare hands, and we threw them just as hot as they do now." It was in the year 1922 that Newmarket entered an intermediate team in the O.A.B.A., and it was then that we had to know what an inside ball was."

For a long time after he started pitching, Baz did not receive any real coaching, and what he had on the ball was what he had picked up himself. Later, however, the Newmarket team obtained the services of Al Woods, formerly a professional pitcher, and according to Baz, Al really knew how to toss them in although he rarely took the mound except when coaching.

In his biggest season, Baz pitched every game his team played, and he only lost two games. He was taken out for a relief hurler on only one occasion. While the team never won a championship, it came close on several occasions. Baz recalls two games in particular, one against Uxbridge, and the other against Orillia. The first he won by a 1-0 score after ten innings. The second, which was a semi-final game against Orillia in 1926, he lost by a 1-0 score in 11 innings. Orillia went on to cop the championship that year.

Baz never pitched a no-hitter, and only once did he pitch a one-hitter, but in one season he hurled three two-hit games. He was never beaten by a large score, but he attributed that to his "good fielders." In 1929, Baz managed and coached the team, but he did not take the mound until the last game of the semi-finals. His team was trailing by a considerable margin in that game, and the boys were up in the air while at the bat. When Baz found that the reason for their discomfort was the presence of a Maple Leaf scout at the game, he called time-out to give the lads a pep talk.

One of his charges took offence at the criticism, and dared Baz to go into the game and to try and get a hit. In order to rally his forces, Baz accepted the challenge, went in as a pinch-hitter, and clouted the first pitch over the fence for a home-run. He then took the mound for the first time that season, and proceeded to shut the opposing batsmen out for the rest of the game. But the game had already been lost.

Now Baz's wife complains that she is a lawn-bowler's widow. "He's good for five nights a week on the greens in the sum-

A Bit Of Fun

Betty was hesitating between two young men, and at last it struck her that she might get some help from her father.

"Which do you think I should take, Daddy?" she asked. "Joe is awfully handsome, but Sam is a nice, steady chap."

Father did not hesitate. "My dear," he replied, "if you want a good husband, take Sam. He really loves you."

"How do you know?" she asked. Father smiled.

"I've been borrowing money from him for the last six months," he said, "and he still comes to see you twice a week."

INCOMPREHENSIBLE

The small boy went into the lounge to see a visitor who was with his father.

"Well, my little man," said his father's friend, "why are you looking at me so hard?"

"Why," replied the boy, "Daddy told me you were a self-made man, and I wanted to see what you look like."

"Quite right," said the gratified guest. "I am a self-made man."

"But why did you make yourself like that?" asked the boy, with surprise.

On Second Thought

By The Editor

The changes in the make-up of The Era and Express had one serious effect. By limiting the space on the left hand side of the page, where we are wont to publish our opinions, from three columns to two, certain long-term tenants have been dispossessed. Custom decrees that the editorial columns should be reserved for weighty pronouncements on national issues and the widening of Main St. For a while, with the extra column, we were able to inject certain unorthodox touches, but with the rationing, we can do it no more.

We can no longer use that space to talk about our dog—he rated three editorials when he broke his leg and had to wear a cast on it. Banished were members of the North Main Potato Roasting Society, and the Queen St. East Social and Boating Society with its affiliated Costing Club. Little homeless waifs they were, driven from their refuge in the editorial columns by weighty pronouncements on national issues and the widening of Main St.

We couldn't turn our back on these orphans of the storm so we opened this column to them. Here our dog Mac can rattle the cast on his broken leg to his heart's content. Here the North Main Potato Roasting Society can light its fires and the Queen St. kids sail down the hill in a cloud of snow spray or play pirate on the banks of the sweet flowing Holland.

And we shall be very snooty about the prime ministers and the generals over on the left hand side of the page. They can't eat our potatoes or ride our sleighs. No siree, bub.

This will be a column of second thoughts, generally the better ones, on those matters that too little engage our time. No revelations of earth shaking portents about national issues and the widening of Main St. (damn, it slipped in for a third time—have to watch it). Here we are concerned with the enjoyment of living. If we issue any calls to battle, they will be directed at that fellow over in the editorial column who gets so huffy on national issues and the widening of Main St. (slipped again).

mer time, and for the same amount of time on the Miami carpet in the winter," she says. Baz only started bowling last winter, but he was runner-up for the singles championship, and was half of the doubles championship team. Jim Law was the other half.

Between the baseball days and the time when Baz discovered lawn bowling, he was an enthusiastic gardener. "He still loves his flowers, even if they were neglected a little because of the bowling this year," Mrs. McHale says. She is the former Ina Hall, and she married Baz in 1941. "Those are his only hobbies, but he's awfully good-natured," she added.

It is interesting to note that Baz's brother, Bernard, played first base on an opposing team at the time when both played in the town league, but played on the same team all the years the two played O.B.A.

Opinions Of Other Editors

IT HAS WORKED WELL (Winnipeg Free Press)

Mr. M. J. Coldwell, national leader of the CCF, unburdened himself of some thoughts on Free Enterprise at Farview, Alta. He said: "Free enterprise is an attractive theory, but it just does not work. It promises security and freedom to all and leaves everything but profits to chance."

Mr. Coldwell as usual is a little right and a lot wrong. He is right when he says "Free enterprise is an attractive theory" and hopelessly wrong when he says "it just does not work."

Mr. Coldwell happens to be talking about the only theory which really has worked, which has raised a good part of the world to a standard of living never reached before and which now offers hope to millions all over the globe.

This country and this continent are proof positive of the practicality of free enterprise. If Mr. Coldwell can point to any place where his particular brand of economics has worked half as well, then we might be ready to listen.

IS THIS A PROMISE? (The Canadian Statesman, Bowmanville)

In a recent broadcast the minister of finance, Hon. D. C. Abbott, explained why the Canadian government had decided to cut out price control. It should need no explanation. Price control was adopted during the war as a war measure. It is, as Mr. Abbott says, not even constitutional for the dominion government to enforce this sort of regimentation in time of peace.

Mr. Abbott pointed out that, as a direct result of abolishing price control, there is a saving of hundreds of millions of dollars a year in subsidies. The removal of price control on bread saved $33,000,000 a year in subsidies on wheat.

Mr. Abbott tied up his removal of subsidies with a reduction in taxation, so the Canadian people will now assume that, whatever else happens, the next budget will include a tax reduction at least equal to the savings in subsidies as a result of the removing of price control.

Mr. Abbott is the minister responsible for framing the budget. His recent statement must be regarded as entirely official.

Principals Write On Education Week

The following articles, Education in Democracy by H. A. Jackson, and Adult Education by Sam Jefferson, were written in observance of Education Week—Editor.

By Sam Jefferson, Principal,
Alexander Muir School,
Convener for Education,
Newmarket Home and School
Association

Education week was observed throughout Ontario from November 2 to November 8. At such times our thoughts are directed to our educational system as it exists in the province. In Newmarket we think of the elementary schools, the high school and Pickering College. These are all worthy institutions, supplying the needs of the various age groups for which they are intended. Many of our citizens, however, are prevented from partaking of the benefits of these institutions by reasons of their home duties, their occupations, and more particularly, their age. Why not a school for adults who wish to add to their store of knowledge but are past what we ordinarily consider school age?

Our schools are permanent buildings, necessarily of substantial construction to withstand the rigors of our Canadian climate, and consequently expensive to build and maintain. They are used for only six or seven hours of the day and stand idle when a large percentage of our population could very well make use of them. Night classes could become a reality with little added expense.

It is true that our universities are crowded to the doors with students but it is also true that many people have never had the opportunity to secure higher education. This does not mean that they did not have the ability to absorb more knowledge. Many were forced to leave school for financial or other reasons which might be only of a temporary nature. Unfortunately they occurred at just such a time as to interfere with our accepted ideas of education. If these individuals had the opportunity presented to them at a later date they would make excellent students and improve their capacity for earning.

Polish Veterans

During the spring a class of Polish veterans, ranging in age from 25 to 40 years, received instruction in basic English at the Alexander Muir public school. Age was no hindrance in their case. They made excellent progress and were able to learn a fundamental store of English on which they could continue to build. They felt the need of such teaching and enjoyed the experience. Why shouldn't this privilege be extended to many native born Canadians who wish to enlarge their knowledge in many different lines? This class was conducted under the sponsorship of the adult board of education which has since been absorbed by the Ontario Department of Education. The instructor was paid by the Adult Board of Education. The building was provided by the Newmarket public school board.

The Newmarket Home and School Association has sponsored instruction to adult groups in weaving, leather working, smoking, etc., with splendid results. These classes were directed towards hobbies, but why not organize groups along more academic lines? We have in Newmarket considerable numbers of adults who were not privileged to study in Canadian schools and consequently are not well schooled in Canadian history or geography. Would they not be interested in a study of their country? Building is advancing at considerable speed in Newmarket and many more look forward to establishing homes. They might look forward with interest to a course in home planning. Interior decorating, too, would be welcomed by many who have been prevented from decorating their homes during war years by scarcity of materials. Then a study of various trades might appeal to some. In fact the list would be endless so far as study material is concerned. The only requisite to forming a group would be to secure ten or 12 persons who were interested in a particular line of endeavor.

Way to Security
Almost everyone has a hobby or should have one to broaden his intellectual faculties. Public speaking, floriculture, horticulture, art, and dozens of other topics often begin as hobbies and with an opportunity for study could become a reality as a means of achieving financial security. Age would be no bar in such cases. All that would be essential would be a desire to further one's knowledge in the particular field chosen for study. The adult board of education, now functioning as a unit in the department of education, would welcome the formation of such study groups as they are demanded in various localities. Too often we are deluded by thinking that sport is the only avenue of escape from our daily routine. Why shouldn't study be included? We would not only develop a hobby but benefit from the results. The New-

Ability to understand, control, and adjust oneself to human relationships is an important achievement in education. Our scheme of education is designed to promote at least three great objectives of human life and activity. One is the forming and strengthening of character—individual and national character—by placing youth in the hour of its growth in a congenial and inspiring environment. Another is to train boys and girls to delight in pursuits and rejoice in accomplishments—work in music and art; work in wood and metal; work in literature and history—which may become the recreations and ornaments of hours of leisure in maturer years. A third is the awakening and guiding of the practical intelligence for the better and more skilled service of the community in all its multiple business and complex affairs. An objective that cannot be dismissed in our, or any other, country, so highly industrialized and so dependent on the success of its industries, that it needs for its success, and even for its safety, the best and most highly trained skill of its citizens.

An important principle of education is health. The time to establish good physical and mental health is in childhood. The teacher, the doctor and the nurse, and the father and the mother—each doing his and her part—are the ones to whom education calls for help.

Business of Schools

The business of our schools is to get children to talk and to write, to get them to square their shoulders and hit out without too much fear; to see beauty; and to engage in activities which lead to desirable goals. A real difficulty is to make some children take trouble, and the best teacher is the one who gets the most done by those children for nothing gives them more delight than knowing that they have done something themselves. This is the joy of creation and it is a reality. That little spark of the creative spirit is the light by which all star-led teachers move.

Universal public education is a great experiment in democracy. Our way of life is founded upon the assumption that every citizen has the right to a voice in determining the policies that affect his well-being. Our ideas of democracy are founded upon respect for human personality and faith in the value of the individual. Because of their very nature, democracy and education are bound inseparably. There is greater need today than ever to keep our people enlightened; to equip all citizens to contribute to the continuance and improvement of a democratic society; to promote co-operation and understanding. Our schools constitute one of the first lines of defence in the battle against darkness, distrust and disunity.

market Home and School Association has already suggested that a committee be organized to study adult education and its feasibility in Newmarket. They would be willing to sponsor the study groups if there were a sufficient demand for them. Instructors who are competent would be secured and the municipality would benefit.

Remember. When we cease to learn we are truly old. Are we all satisfied with our present attainments? When we refuse to accept new ideas we are not making progress. Education is not only passing school examinations, it is a way of life. It is improving our standards of living and the truly educated person is the one who has made the best use of his time in life.

In Memoriam

Drury - In loving memory of our dear mother, Bella Hattie Drury, who passed away November 17, 1915.
It's loneliness here without you, mom.
And sad the weary way.
For life is not the same to us since you were called away.
If we had all the world to give, we would give it, yes and more, to hear your voice and see you smile.
And greet you at the door.
So you who have a mother, cherish her with care.
You'll never know a heartache till you see her vacant chair.
Ever remembered by husband and family.

Lunney - In loving memory of my dear mother, Martha Lunney, who died suddenly November 9, 1917, also my dear father, Richard Lunney, who left us March 1, 1942. Memory grows sweeter as time travels on.
Always longing for the smiles that are gone.
Deep in our hearts their memory is kept.
We loved them too dearly to ever forget.
Always remembered by daughter Vera.

Merewether - In memory of George Merewether, who passed away November 17, 1915.
And when the dark mist gathers into the past we stray.
And wander on in memory to the times that used to be.
Ever remembered by wife and family.

Pegg - In fond and loving memory of my dear mother, Jennie Eliza Pegg, who passed away November 14, 1915.
No one knows how much we miss you.
No one knows the bitter pain we have suffered since we lost you.
Life has never been the same in our hearts your memory lingers.

Sweetly tender, fond and true,
There is not a day, dear mother, that we do not think of you.
Very sadly missed and lovingly remembered by her daughter Ruby, son-in-law Tommy, and grandchildren.

Merewether - In memory of George Merewether, who passed away November 17, 1915.
And when the dark mist gathers into the past we stray.
And wander on in memory to the times that used to be.
Ever remembered by wife and family.

Pegg - In fond and loving memory of my dear mother, Jennie Eliza Pegg, who passed away November 14, 1915.
No one knows how much we miss you.
No one knows the bitter pain we have suffered since we lost you.
Life has never been the same in our hearts your memory lingers.

125TH ANNIVERSARY
ing two Biliri Bible students.
In January, 1947, the church also took on partial support of Miss Mary Littlewood, with Sudan United Mission, who will be stationed in a hospital in French Equatorial Africa as a medical missionary.
The conference is given at least $100 a year for Home Missionary work by the church. The Missionary Societies of the church send boxes regularly to Britain and help is given to the Gowan Home for Missionaries
Children in Collingwood, in way of quilts, clothing, etc.
Music plays a strong part in the church life and on Thursday night, the choir will be in charge and present several numbers. Friday night has been planned as Civic and Community night, emphasis being placed on the part of church work in town life.
Anniversary Sunday will prove the high point of these services. Special music will be sung by the choir and special messages are promised by the guest speaker, Rev. J. K. Holland. At Sunday-school in the afternoon, special music will be given by the junior choir under the leadership of Mrs. J. E.

Cane. Rev. Holland will deliver a children's message.
A birthday supper will be held on Monday evening at 6 o'clock for all the members. A birthday cake has been prepared by one of the congregation. Following the banquet, an illustrated address on "The Romance of Scotland" will be given by Rev.
Holland to which everyone is invited.
The guest speaker for all these services is Rev. J. K. Holland who has just completed 14 years' ministry at the Olivet Baptist church. He is a native of Scotland and in his early years, attended Toronto Bible College and McMaster University.
All the week day services commence at 8 p.m. and the citizens of the town are invited.

Homemakers' Exchange

Interested in this new addition to the Women's page? If you are, then you'll welcome the news that this column will be a regular weekly feature.

It will include recipes for everything from good old fashioned fare such as "beef stew with dumplings" to the newest concoctions of pressure cookery.

Now that's our part. Your part will be to send in your favorite recipes. Every cook has several best loved dishes which continually reappear in her kitchen — so let's have yours — whether it's for a "never-fail" chocolate cake or for some of those incomparable pickles like grandma used to make. Whatever the family favorite recipe is, we want it.

Also any ideas or methods that you have employed as short cuts in the daily routine of home-making will be welcomed so we can pass them on to other busy mothers.

Send your recipes and hints to "The Homemaker," c/o Newmarket Era and Express, Main St., Newmarket.

With Christmas almost closer than just around the proverbial corner, our thoughts turn to the making of those extra special items which usually grace our kitchen for this most festive season of the year. Plum puddings and Christmas fruit cakes are accupping the attention of homemakers across the country these days.

The following recipes are ones which have stood the taste test of repeated Christmas bakings in local homes and have been submitted by members of the Newmarket Home and School Association.

CHRISTMAS PUDDING

(Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards)

6 Cups seedless raisins, 2 cups prepared mixed peels, 1 cup almonds, 1½ cups once-sifted pastry flour or 1½ cups once-sifted hard wheat flour, 1½ cups soft bread crumbs lightly packed, 2½ cups chopped suet lightly packed, 1½ cups brown sugar lightly packed, ½ tsp. baking soda, 1½ tsp. salt, 1 tsp. ground cinnamon, 1 tsp. grated nutmeg, 1-3 tsp. ground ginger, 1-3 tsp. ground allspice, 1-3 tsp. ground cloves, 5 eggs, ¼ cup syrup from maraschino cherries.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Newmarket — The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Institute will be held at the home of Mrs. George Luesby, 15 Arden Ave., on Wednesday, Nov. 19, at 2:30 p.m. Major John Barnett, first vice-president of the Ontario Historical Society, will speak on Historical Research. Will all the members kindly note the change of date from Thursday to Wednesday.

CLIP RECIPES

All members of the Home and School Association are requested to clip the recipes which will appear in "The Homemaker's Exchange" as contributions from the association. Please bring these recipes to the regular monthly meetings where they will be discussed and in some instances demonstrated by various members.

Story Of Internment Told Catholic Women

Newmarket — Mrs. Frank Foster from the Jersey Island, one of the Channel Islands group, was the guest speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Catholic Women's League which was held at the home of Mrs. A. F. Buckler on Elm St. on Monday night. Mrs. Wm. McCaffrey presided. The meeting was well attended.

Mrs. Foster told of her home on Jersey Island which is 13 miles from the coast of France and is only nine miles wide by 12 miles long. In 1940 these islands were occupied by the Germans and everything such as radios and cars was immediately requisitioned by them.

On September 16, 1942, Mrs. Foster and her husband and two children were deported to a dispersal camp at Biberach where they were kept for six months before being sent to Wurtz, Wurttemberg. There they remained for almost three years before they were finally freed and flown to England by the Canadian air force on June 5, 1945.

Shortly after arriving at Wurtz, all single men of military age were taken to Laufien and Mrs. Foster's 16-year-old son was among them. He was later returned to his family. Despite the intense cold, for the weather dropped to 35 degrees below in the winter, there was no fuel provided the last two winters. Their daily food ration was two bowls of watery soup, a small amount of fat of doubtful origin and five very small slices of bread per person. There was no butter or milk.

"The quarters were filthy when we arrived so we broke a glass window and with the pieces of glass scraped the place clean," said Mrs. Foster. Four hundred men and women and 200 children were confined to this one building and they were permitted a walk outside the compound of one hour once a week under guard. The monotony of the existence was the worst feature: not even a pencil, paper or book, game or toy of any description was provided for these 200 children until the Red Cross and next-of-kin parcels arrived. Only 11 of the 400 adults volunteered to work for the Nazis which Mrs. Foster felt was a very high standard.

Mrs. Foster thanked all who had in any way assisted the Red Cross in their work. Their first parcel arrived after they had been there four months and without them they would have starved. The Canadian Red Cross parcels were especially welcomed because of the large tins of powdered milk which they contained. Many amusing stories were told by Mrs. Foster as well as some of a more grim nature. The day of their liberation is one day they will never forget, concluded Mrs. Foster.

Lunch was served by the hostess, Mrs. Buckler.

Two Past Presidents Given Gold Pins

Newmarket — Mrs. W. H. Bell was presented with the past president's gold pin by Mrs. M. B. Seldon on behalf of the Newmarket Home and School Association at a special executive meeting which was held at the King George school.

Expressing her regret at having to leave the group Mrs. Bell said, "There is a lot of work to be done to influence public feeling for the right causes. It is this lack of ideals in the present world that has caused so much of our current troubles."

Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards presented Mrs. M. B. Seldon who was the president of the Newmarket Home and School Association for the past two years, with her past president's gold pin.

TO SPEAK ON PLANNING

Newmarket — P. Alan Deacon, architect and one of the two special consultants on Town Planning for North York Township, will speak on town planning on Tuesday evening, Nov. 25, at 8 o'clock, at St. Paul's Parish hall.

This meeting is sponsored by the Home and School Association and is open to the public. A special invitation is extended to the members of the town council and the school boards.

HAS 95TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Mary Jane Prout (left), who celebrated her 95th birthday on October 22 at Cedar Brae, is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John M. Brae, Scarborough twp. She was the eldest of nine children, all of whom predeceased her except her youngest brother, Albert (right), who still owns the farm on which Mrs. Prout was born. Her husband, John Prout, whom she married October 23, 1873, predeceased her on September 4, 1926.

Mrs. Prout moved to Cedar Brae shortly after her marriage and has lived on the same farm for 74 years. Of her five daughters, Mrs. John Stevenson (Ada), resides at Whitewood, Sask., Mrs. Robert Kay (Alma), at Cedar Brae, Mrs. Fergus Kennedy (Louise), at Udon and Jessie and Mae are at home. Her eldest son, John, was killed by a tree in March, 1946, while her other son, Harvey, died a year ago. Mrs. Prout has ten grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

TWO FRIENDS RELIEF GROUPS GET AWARDS

The Nobel Peace Prize for 1947 has been awarded in Oslo, Norway, to two Quaker organizations, the American Friends Service Committee in Philadelphia, and the British Service Council in London, England.

The chairman of the Norwegian committee said the Society of Friends was selected because of its great humanitarian work. "These relief committees have administered some $60,000,000 in relief since the first great war in more than 20 countries. This work has been done entirely on the basis of need, without regard to creed, nationality or political belief."

The Canadian Friends Service Committee, with headquarters at 113 Maitland St., Toronto, is affiliated with the above committees and is carrying on relief and rehabilitation work in Britain, Germany, Poland, Finland and other European countries and also in India, China and Japan. The Friends Service Committee is sponsoring a series of "World Service" radio broadcasts over CFRB on Sundays from 9:45 a.m. to 10 a.m. The programs include: November 16: "A Lost Father," a refugee father's long search for his missing family; November 23: "Another Man's Shoes," relief clothing distribution in a Polish village; November 30: "All in a Day's Work," work of Friends transport unit in France; December 7: "China Convoy," a Chinese farmer helped to overcome Oriental scourge; December 14: "Vienna," Quaker relief and rehabilitation work in Austria.

PAISLEY-EASTERN RITES NOVEMBER 8

On Saturday, Nov. 8, at 7 p.m., Calvary Baptist church, Toronto, was the scene of a pretty wedding which united in marriage Freda Alice May, daughter of Mrs. Bain and the late Mr. Easton, and Stuart Thomas Paisley, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Paisley, Mount Albert. Rev. R. Sneed officiated.

Entering the church on the arm of her brother-in-law, Mr. Nelson Arnold, the bride wore an original portrait gown of traditional satin and lace fashioned with a moulded bodice and sweeping circular skirt. A pointed halo with orange blossoms caught her three-quarter length veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses. Her only jewelry was a triple strand of pearls, gift of the groom. Attending the bride were her sister, Mrs. Opal Walker, as matron of honor, gowned in rose taffeta. Mrs. Mable Jupp and yellow taffeta with all-over net. All wore floral headresses matching gowns of blue taffeta and yellow taffet with all-over net. All wore floral headresses of matching color and carried nosegays of yellow baby mums.

Mr. Elmer Paisley, brother of the groom, was best man with Mr. Jim Jupp and Mr. Frank Walker as ushers.

At the reception held at Ulster Temple, Main St., the bride's mother received wearing a black ensemble suit with silver trim and a corsage of cream roses, assisted by the groom's mother wearing a black gown with cerise trim and corsage of pink roses. Later the bride and groom left amid showers of confetti and best wishes for a honeymoon to Niagara and points west.

LIBRARY CORNER

By CAROLINE E. ION

"Gentleman's Agreement," by Laura Z. Hobson was published by Simon and Schuster, New York, 1947. It was the Literary Guild book selection for November and is available at the Newmarket public library.

This novel is the story of an intelligent young journalist, Philip Green, and the successful tackling of his biggest assignment.

It is not only an entertaining and well written book, but it brings into the open the disgraceful prevalence of anti-semitism in America today.

The usual cataloguing of known instances of anti-Jewish feeling, the preachy psychiatric approach about the effects of hatred on the hated are missing in this novel. An entirely new slant is thrown on the problem when the gentle lives the life of the Jew. He actively participates in the daily affronts members of minority groups receive instead of viewing them in a detached fashion from the sidelines. "This story is a revelation and a proof of how anti-semitism is seeping into every avenue of daily life."

The weightiness of the subject is offset by an absorbing plot which is both humorous and human.

The authoress succeeds in pointing out that this is not a Jewish problem, but a Christian one and that there is no bigger issue than beating down the complacency of essentially decent people about prejudice.

NEWMARKET HIGH-LIGHTS

By ELAINE ROBINSON

The Round Robin volley ball tournament was a big success last Saturday and we think that the girls of N.H.S. deserve much credit for their splendid playing which won for them first place in both senior and junior games.

The girls on the junior team were Norma Balsdon, Joan Boivar (captain), Pauline Bovair, Doreen Smith, Connie Fines, Marlene Rye, Doris Pollock, Helen Shelestowski, Jean Staley, Mary Epworth, Verna Shiers, Barbara Watt, senior Jean Webster, Mary Ellen MacInnis, Pat Duncan (captain), Irene Hill, Audrey Rowland, Pearl Gunn, Mary Bothwell, Betty Stephens, Winnie DeLafaye, Marilyn Spears, Beth King, Helen Epworth, Barbara Pearson.

The scores were: Rich. Hill 24, Aurora 23; Newmarket 25, Aurora 23. The last senior game brought the victory to N.H.S. with a 23-12 win over Rich. Hill.

Junior: Rich. Hill 11, Newmarket 40; Rich. Hill 26; Aurora 15; Newmarket 26; Aurora 17. In looking over the scores you will notice that Rich. Hill shows the biggest improvement in their playing.

Monday morning at 9 o'clock, the school had an Armistice Day service in the assembly hall. Rev. Henry Cotton, Rev. J. T. Rhodes and Rev. M. E. R. Boudreau were the ministers who took the service for us. Mr. Dick of N.H.S. read the names of the students of N.H.S. who lost their lives in two wars.

The junior boys' rugby team played at Pickering College on Friday and won by a score of 23-1. Our boys are playing terrific rugby again and we hope that they keep it up.

If you use liquid spice extract use only about a quarter of the amount called for when the spices are dry. Combine spice extracts with the liquid ingredients before adding to the fruit-flour mixture.

Method: Wash and dry the seedless raisins. Sliver sufficient mixed peels to yield the required two cups. Blanch and halve the almonds. Measure and sift together three times the flour, baking soda, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg, ginger, allspice and cloves. Add the prepared fruits and nuts to the dry ingredients and mix, using the fingertips, until each piece of fruit and nut is coated with flour. Mix in the bread crumbs, suet and brown sugar (make sure there are no lumps in the brown sugar). Beat the eggs well and add the syrup from maraschino cherries. Add the eggs and syrup to the first mixture and mix thoroughly. Fill two buttered pudding bowls to within one inch of top with mixture. Tie each pudding bowl in a sheet of cooking parchment which has been wrung out of cold water or in a floured pudding cloth. Steam closely covered, and over rapidly boiling water, about four hours. Leaving puddings in original wrappings store in a cool place to ripen. To serve, resteam for one and a half hours.

WHITE FRUIT CAKE
(By Mrs. Ted Mitchell)
1 lb. butter, 1 lb. brown sugar, 7 eggs beaten separately, 1 lb. best currants, 1 lb. sultana raisins, 1/2 lb. citron peel, 6 cups flour (sifted before measuring), 2 level teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt.

Method: Cream the butter and add to it half the sugar, mixing well; beat the yolks and add to them the remainder of the sugar, and then combine with the butter mixture. Mix and sift the flour, salt and baking powder; sift a little of it over the fruits, then combine, alternately with the fruits, with the first. Bake in a moderate oven. "This cake is much appreciated by those who do not enjoy a rich Christmas cake."

FRUIT CAKE
1 1/2 lbs. butter, 1 1/2 lbs. light brown sugar, 13 eggs, 1 1/2 lbs. flour, 2 tablespoons cinnamon, 1/2 tablespoon cloves, 1/2 tablespoon mace, 2 lbs. currants, 3 lbs. raisins, 1/2 pound dates, 1/2 pound almonds, 1 lb. citron peel, 1/2 cup grape juice, 1/2 cup strong coffee, 2 squares chocolate, 1/2 cup strawberry jam.

Method: Same as above. Bake in a moderate oven at 250 degrees for 2 1/2 hours.

LIGHT FRUIT CAKE
4 Eggs, 1/2 lb. butter, 1 1/2 cups fine white sugar, 1 1/2 lbs. bleached sultanas washed and dried, 1/2 lb. citron peel cut fine, 1/2 lb. blanched almonds (slivered), 1/2 lb. red cherries, 1/2 lb. green cherries, 3 rings of pineapple, 2 teaspoons vanilla, 2 teaspoons baking powder, pinch of salt, 1/2 cup warm water, 3/4 cups pastry flour.

Method: Cream the butter, sugar, add the beaten egg yolks, vanilla and warm water. Sift the flour once before measuring. Then sift 3 times with the salt and baking powder. Flour the raisins, peel and nuts; add alternately with the flour, add cherries, pineapple, lastly add the stiff beaten egg whites. Bake 2 1/2 hours at 275 degrees.

Next week we shall have recipes for Christmas cookies so join us then for more favorite recipes and remember that we are anxious to have a full exchange of household hints, suggestions and recipes from all the homemakers in our district.

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

OVERSEAS
WITH MISS LEWIS

It was, unfortunately, impossible for us to attend the banquet put on by the brotherhood of the Newmarket United church for the ladies, so we missed the beginning of a memorable evening.

I heard a great deal about the banquet, and all good. The way the meal was cooked and served was, evidently, beyond reproach. One lady said to me, enthusiastically, "the gravy! Gravy, beautifully colored and, as much to the point, beautifully hot!"

In the interval between the supper and the feature of the succeeding hours, there was a very song and then two solos, very beautifully sung by Mr. Williams, accompanied most beautifully by Mr. H. B. Fowler. One song was Where'er You Walk, the other a little Welsh song, the name of which I lost.

Then after a few welcoming words to the incomers and a few sympathetic ones to the gentlemen facing the dish washing, Rev. H. Cotton called on Mr. Aubrey Davis to introduce the speaker of the evening.

Mr. Davis proceeded to do, most acceptably, with first, an appreciative word for the givers of the banquet; then of feeling he should know the speaker, having known her mother well in their high school days.

He voiced his appreciation of Miss Lewis' work, which, he said, brought credit, not only to Ontario, but to its banner county and the town of Newmarket. He then called on Miss Lewis to come forward.

Miss Lewis, in acknowledging the introduction, spoke of the pleasure it gave her to speak in the United church—her home church—from whose rostrum she had often spoken before. Her trip to Britain and Holland had, she said, increased her regard and respect for those who bore the brunt of war.

She was proud of the fact that everywhere she went the fact that she was Canadian gave her an "open sesame" to people's hearts and homes.

When she asked some of the Dutch people why this was so, they told her it was because the Canadians were the liberators of Holland.

She showed some lovely pictures of England and Wales and Holland. Our Canadian W.I. delegation took their own food with them and so were no burden on their hosts who, especially in England and Wales, have little and that little of such sameness that it must react on appetites and health. Miss Lewis said one saw the result of the rationing in the people's faces and hair.

WILL DONATE BULBS TO SCHOOL PUPILS

Newmarket—An open meeting of the Newmarket Horticultural Society to which the general public was invited was held on October 30 at the recreation room of Trinity United church. Howard Hugo presided at the meeting.

Plans for future juvenile shows were discussed and suggestions made to incorporate many new ideas in the work in this field. To encourage further interest in flowers among the children the society is donating 23 bulbs—both daffodil and hyacinth—to each of the 18 classrooms of the four elementary schools in Newmarket. The teachers attending the meeting stated that lessons in science would be linked up with these bulbs. The flowers which will be grown indoors will be cared for by the children themselves.

Another project of the juvenile committee is the forthcoming contest which is open to all pupils of grades 7 and 8. Each pupil to prepare a special speech limited to five minutes on any subject of his choice connected with horticulture and one student will be chosen by the teachers to represent each school at an open meeting which will be held before November 30. Further particulars regarding this coming event will be announced later. It is hoped that the parents will interest themselves in this project and encourage the active participation of their children in the contest.

Safeguarding telephone wires for trouble-free Service

THE WORK of burying telephone wires or placing them in overhead cable continues year after year. Today, over 4 million miles of telephone wires, 95% of our total, are in cable, safer from storms. Service interruptions caused by weather are fewer, and still our constant aim is to provide even better service.

Not only is our service becoming more dependable, but it's growing, too. We are filling orders for telephones just as fast as new equipment is available. More telephones plus more dependable service—and always at the lowest possible cost—mean greater telephone value for every user.

UNION STREET

A splendid meeting of the Union Street Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. James Bartolin on Thursday, Nov. 6. The president, Mrs. Lilian Johnston, occupied the chair and several important items of business were discussed. The ladies were well pleased with the proceeds from the plowmen's banquet and lunch which permitted them to add over $130 to their funds. A donation of $10 has been sent to Mrs. Kate Aikens for the purchase of a food parcel to be sent to Britain for Christmas.

There is to be an Institute rally in the agricultural rooms, Newmarket, on Thursday, Nov. 20, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Mrs. L. Johnston outlined briefly a few highlights from Miss Anna P. Lewis' address and colored slides given last week at Newmarket following her recent visit to Britain and Holland.

Mrs. Lorne Mahoney gave an interesting paper on Home Economics and Mrs. Johnston gave a short paper on the same subject. A report on the frozen foods lecture and slides given recently at Queensville was given by Mrs. Douglas Beckett. Mrs. Thomas Swanson gave a demonstration on using ric-rac braid locked together in various color combinations as edgings and motifs for pillow slips, runners, etc. The samples shown were effective. Mrs. Lorne Mahoney gave an interesting demonstration on making tomato soup and juice. Mrs. Roy Cowles read an article entitled "This car shakes its wings, takes off and flies". The National Anthem brought the meeting to a close. A social half-hour followed when delicious cake and coffee were served by the hostesses, Mrs. V. Skinner, Mrs. Irvine Rose and Mrs. J. Bartolin.

Mrs. Wilburn Beckett and Mrs. Irvine Rose attended the central area Institute convention at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, this week.
 Sorry to report that Mr. Wilfred Micks is confined to his bed for a few weeks through illness. Miss Audrey Eves, Strange, spent the weekend at her home. Congratulations to Miss Catherine Diceman who won first prize at the East York Plowing Match held at Milliken last week.

Hoffman's To Sharpen Teeth On Barrie Monday

By GEO. HASKETT, JR.

The Hoffman hockey grind is well underway. The team went winging off to Barrie Monday evening for work-out number four. Team coach Father T. J. McCabe is still on the absentee list, but the squad is rapidly rounding into condition and when "the coach" returns, he should be well pleased with the results to date.

Monday 21 candidates turned up with six of them new recruits. Roy "Mutt" Collings was out for the first time. In fact, it was the Bradford flash's first time on skates this season. Other newcomers included Frank Gregoire, a one-time St. Mike's; Bill Capel, who received his hockey training up Owen Sound way; and Doug Clark. The latter trio are all on the teaching staff in Aurora. All

SCOUT NEWS

The regular meeting of the Boy Scouts will begin at 7 p.m. tonight. You are requested to attend in full uniform.

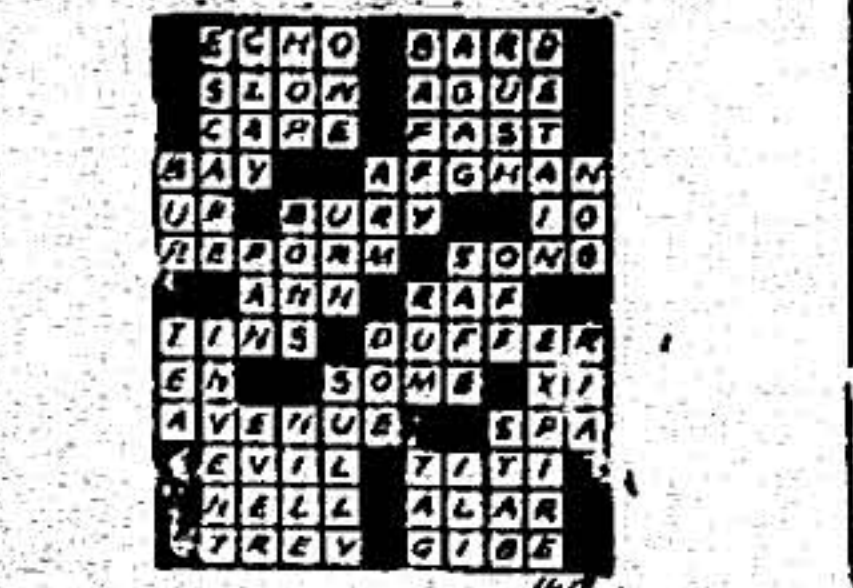

The Boy Scouts were privileged to attend the parade and "service of remembrance" on Sunday, Nov. 11. Although the boys have had little basic training in marching, they did their very best. It is also our conviction that their parents and spectators admired the boys for their appearance.

The Scoutmaster and officials are planning a hike for the Scouts before the cold weather sets in. Further information may be obtained at the Scout meeting.—D.B.

Legion News

St. John's church was filled on Sunday for the service of Remembrance which was conducted there at 2:30 p.m. The parade fell in at the town hall at 2 o'clock and the Newmarket Citizens' Band led the way to the cenotaph. Wreaths were placed by the Newmarket Veterans' Association, the Newmarket branch, Canadian Legion, the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion and the town council. Representatives from the Boy Scouts also participated in the parade.

Rev. H. Cotton conducted a short service at the cenotaph and the "Last Post" was sounded by J. Burling.

From there the parade proceeded to St. John's church where a service was conducted by Rev. Father McGivern. At the conclusion of the service the parade fell in and marched to the town hall where it was dismissed.

By invitation, a group of Legionnaires of the Newmarket branch attended the Sunday evening service at Holland Landing United church on Nov. 9. The "Last Post" was sounded by J. Burling. Lunch was served following the service by the ladies of the church.

This week four new members were added to the roll which brings the total membership for branch 426 to 324.

The executive of branch 426, Canadian Legion, attended the Newmarket Lions club meeting on November 10 at St. Paul's parish hall. This meeting was designated as Remembrance Day at the Lions club and the guest speaker of the evening was Rev. Capt. George Dix, a veteran who is well known in Newmarket.

On Friday, Nov. 14, a number of the members of branch 426 are attending the special service which is being held in the Christian church in connection with the 125th anniversary of that church. Rev. J. K. Holland of Toronto will be the guest speaker. This service begins at 8 p.m. It is hoped that there will be a good representation of the Newmarket Legion. All who plan to attend are to meet at the church not later than 7:45 as to be able to attend in a group.

Remember the social evening on Friday, Nov. 21, at the club rooms. Another fine party is promised by the entertainment committee. See you there.

The November general meeting will be held on Monday, Nov. 24, at the club rooms. The business section will be cut short to enable the preliminaries in the cribbage tournament to be held. The team that will represent the branch in the coming zone tournament at our club rooms will be chosen. Further information can be obtained from Gordon Ough.

The Zone E meeting will be held at the Legion clubrooms on Wednesday, Nov. 19, at 8 p.m. All members of branch 426 are invited to attend.

Social and personal items are always welcome. Telephone Newmarket 780 or 933.

WE KNOW WHO PUT THE O'CALLS IN MRS. MURPHY'S CHOWDER!

Wurra, wurra, wurra! There's always somebody taking the joy out of life! First of all, those pesky Millionaires from Markham led by Ernie Lawrie went out and signed George Stark, smart forward of the 1947 Newmarket Vets' team, just when Jack "Ceegars" McDonald and the boys were figuring the speedy boy would be with them again. "It's a case of him as has gets", sez Ceegars. Next, Ike Harper and the boys over at Stouffville up and signed blurbly Jack Atkinson to a junior certificate thereby snaring one of the junior circuit's most promising blueliners and adding to the worries of manager Leonard Simmons. Newmarket Capco entry to the junior ranks also deprives the Aurora Co-ops of several fancy Dans from Newmarket and Bradford who were more or less counted upon. Aurora doesn't suffer alone, however, for the Stouffville team had pretty well scouted the north country and was counting upon several youngsters from Sutton and Mount Albert who, perchance, will find their way to canaltown. It's a cinch they won't be waived through by George Haskett and company. Add to all that the fact that at least two teams are plagued by signalls. By that we mean several so-called stars who would strengthen the teams in question are demanding a bit of folding money before putting their John Hancock on a certificate. The picture grows more tense every day and there'll be some important changes made before the season opens with nearly every team.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES

Unionville Juniors, finding that Stouffville has the pick of the C players, intend moving up to the B series which gives them a wider field to choose from. Cy Allen is busy these days getting the best for his team. Normie Stenden worked out the other night with Stouffville juniors and it will be a real battle between him and Dougie Moore for the net position, if the fair-haired printer's devil decides to stick with Stouffville. Here's the way Stouffville shapes for the coming season: goal, Moore, Stenden and Warrin; defence, Don Campbell, Mac Clement, Jack Atkinson and "Husky" Lewis; forwards, Keith Jewitt, Gordy Minton, Ben Sellers, Bill Mabett, Porky Schell, Bill Mulholland, Johnny Hamilton, Bill Jennings, Burkholder, Skipper Taylor, Sutton, and Doug Ross from the Mount, along with McMillen, Collins and one or two others, are also sought. Hoffman's are trotting out for trials this week, Bill Capel, Aurora Co-ops coach; J. C. Gregoire, Aurora high, who formerly played with St. Mike's Buzzers; Herbie Rose, former small package of dynamite of Richmond Hill juniors defence; Irky Ross, Denny Cosgrove and Johnny White, a forward trio from the south who should show up mighty well and have worked as a unit for several years. If that sixsome doesn't aid the team we'll be greatly surprised. Capel, incidentally, will be a candidate for Canada's Olympic team. He does close to 13' in the pole vault and can hold his own in the field events.

Adly Walker from Highland Creek and Les Clarke, two boys of bush league experience, are shaping up nicely in the Markham Millionaires practice and may be signed for the season. Markham has only lost Nick Bangay and already has added Lloyd Pascoe, George Stark, Jack Rumney, Bruce Forgie and there's more to come. Ted Gapp, Bradford fire chief, former lacrosse star and all-round sports booster, is the new president of the South Simcoe softball league. Bill Blagg, who used to play lacrosse for Allandale juniors and Barrie in the tri-county lacrosse series, is the new governor of Barrie jail. Bill promises all his old friends courteous hospitality should the occasion arise.

ALLEYS

By PIN-BOY

At last we have heard from the town gals who bowl on Thursday nights and from the scores we feel that there has been no reason for them keeping their activities a dark secret. The top fireball of last Thursday night was Faye Kemp who made a 227 single. With the same brand of bowling, Hazel Bennett took 202, 223 and 205, for a 630 total.

When the Dreamers and the Lucky Strikes met in the Monday night ladies' league, Phyl Osborne led her team to a two-point lead when she rolled three nice games, 260, 222, 153 for 635. Mimi Giovannelli had three good ones too, 188, 265 and 165 for a 618 total. Ella Wilkins helped to raise the prestige of the Champs by rolling 206, 227 and 151 for 584. Floss Campbell had a high single of 246, Claire Pollock 240, both totalling 532 each.

In the town men's league bowling at Smith's alleys, Roy Gibson has a pretty nice record with an average of 249 for 12 games. On the last night that they bowled, Roy made 218, 241, 316 for a total of 773. T. Whitfield took 210, 249, 252 for 711. S. Simmons 175, 225, 297 for 697. C. Tugwell 219, 244 231 for 684. A. Deaves 164, 191, 265 for 620. E. Bennett 191, 200, 225 for 616. E. Gibson 185, 215, 215 for 615.

At the Bowlaway, Wilf Jarvis was again the leading Sangamo man of the week with a high 314 single and a total of 603. T. Wilson had high total of 609 and 216 single. Jean Harmon of the Sangamo girls took 506 total and Helen Wilson 424.

To date, B. Revill's team in the Davis men's league is leading the bunch with 33 points. S. Smith's has 32, K. Tansley's 31 and H. Pettit's 21. L. Forhan was score King this week with a 697 total. K. Tansley, a close second with 666 and A. Peppit took 662.

ATHLETE LOSES EYE

Sportsmen will regret to learn that as a result of an injury sustained at work last month, Howard "Mickey" Sutton, popular young Aurora softball and hockeyist, has had an eye removed. He is taking treatment now in a Toronto hospital and is progressing favorably.

Three Trophies Awarded Vets Softball Team

The Newmarket Vets' softball team received the three cups it won, the Joe Spillette Trophy (North Yonge championship), the George Allison Trophy (Mount Albert sports day), and the Tom Birrell Trophy (July 1 sports day), at a special meeting of the Newmarket Veterans' Association recently.

Mr. Spillette presented his cup to Mac "Ceegars" MacDonald, manager of the team. Mayor Jos. Vale, representing George Allison, presented the Allison trophy to Pete Dillman; and Ken Silver acted for Mr. Birrell in the presentation of the Birrell trophy to Mac Walsh.

HUNTERS' ANNUAL

leaves the gizzard in the turkey. Dr. George Case and Tom Birrell, Newmarket, left early Saturday morning for the north country. They will be at Mowatt for the first week and then are hiking over to the Falcon camp for the second week.

There is a lot of work done in those two weeks, they say. In fact, one hunter said it was just about all work and after every season he says "never again", but he's always back again the next year.

Many stories were told while the gang was waiting for the train. Here is one which was confirmed by several of those present. It seems that a couple of years ago, a member of one of the clubs was standing at the shore of a lake and saw a deer on the other side. It was 500 yards across the lake. He fired seven shots and got four hits.

The Zephyr club pulled out for camp just north of Parry Sound at Little's Lake. Zephyr hunters have been going to this camp for 40 years. Another bunch was going to Bill Robinson's camp which is just 18 miles below the Falcon camp in the Sudbury district.

A few wives were at the station to see their husbands "go active" and it almost looked like a Muskox expedition except that there were no snowmobiles. The train finally pulled out at midnight and it is said that not one man who intended leaving by the "hunters' special" missed the train.

Some of the district men going to the Parry Sound area were Donald Stiver, Murray Kirton, Bill Robertson (Mount Albert station agent), Harry Whittaker and Ray Kelley, Oshawa, and Art Case, Zephyr.

Others on the special were Bill Kirton, Herb Leak, Bill Shillinglaw, Jim Harrison, George Longhurst, Lloyd Hollinger, Gord Cain and Wilfred French. Some of these men were headed for the French River district.
